

Recruiting excellence in global healthcare

NEW APPOINTMENT AT RUSTON POOLE INTERNATIONAL AS IT CELEBRATES 15 YEARS IN BUSINESS

The leading international Life Sciences Executive Search group, Ruston Poole International has announced the appointment of Alex Bennett as Associate Director of International Search.

Alex was previously Director of International Sales and Marketing for the US medical device company, Alveolus Inc., where he led the international business from start up to product launch over 3 years. Prior to his career in healthcare, he was a professional rugby player representing an England XV & the Barbarians.

David Collingham, Chairman of Ruston Poole International, commented: 'We welcome Alex at the time when we are marking our 15th anniversary, and when our client portfolio in medical devices and other areas of healthcare is expanding greatly in the international arena. His global sector experience will be invaluable for our clients, as they seek to optimise performance with the best possible senior appointments.'
